(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., March 25.—Governor Aycock, State Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Y. Joyner, and Dr. Charles D. McLver, constituting the Executive Committee of the North Carolina Edu-cational Association, co-operating with the Southern Educational Board, held a conference to-day regarding the proposed educational campaign for the coming summer and fall.

They have prepared a circular letter They have prepared a circular letter to all county superintendents, asking for information as to sentiment in their counties as to local taxation, consolidation of school districts, and improvement of school houses. The special purpose is to ascertain the best localities for concentrating agitation on these subjects to the best advantage. As soon as this information is ascertained, the campaign will be mapped out.

As was the case last symmer, a number of prominent men in public life, as well as those engaged in the profession of teaching, have volunteered their services for the campaign, their expenses to be paid by funds from the Southern Educational Board.

paid by funds from the Southern Edu-cational Board.
Dr. Charles D. McIver, who is district director for the Southern Educational Board, says South Carolina and Georgia will inaugurate similar campaigns. He has just returned from Atlanta, where he held a conference with the Governor and State superintendent, and will go to Columbia April 11th for a similar con-ference with the South Carolina board. He says especially active campaigns will be conducted in all three States.

Charged With Carrying a Man Into West Virginia to Arrest Him.

(Boecial to The Times-Dispatch.)
TAZEWELL, VA., March 25.—The jury this morning returned a verdict against J. T. Billipps and T. C. Harfman, with a fine of $82.50 and thirty tays each in jail. They were tried in the County Court on an appeal from a justice of Pocahontas for kidnapping a man named Whitt on the 24th of January last and carrying him across the State line of Virginia into West Virginia, to arrest him upon a charge of firing mines of the Pocahontas Collieries Company.

Whitt, with others, was arrested on fugitive warrants at Pocahontas. They objected to being tried by P. P. Dillion, the justice before whom the warrants were returnable, but Justice Dillion persisted in trying the case, and the prisoners refused to return on their recomizance, claiming Dillion had been judicially employed by the Pocahontas Collieries Company, who was prosecuting the case. Out of this grows a motion to be tried in this court for the removal of Dillion as justice for malfeasance.

For twenty-five years the Chamber has looked after matters that concerned the interests of the people of Petersburg, and whenever there was anything that needed attention, the people have slways gone to the Chamber and made known their wishes through it. While the body has done so much, it is fully realized that still more could have been done if there were more members to be represented by the various committees.

Just at this time, when the city is moving forward so rapidly in many respects, there are exceedingly important matters that need the attention of this commercial body, and it is hoped that the business men of Petersburg will come to the support of the Chamber and aid it in doing still greater good for the business interests of the city.

EXCELLENT PROGRAMME

The Visitors Will Be Given a Roya Reception in This Oity-Convention is to Meet in Murphy's Hotel Annex.

The Southern Vehicle Association will meet in Richmond on the 7th, 8th and 9th of next month, when fully a hundred delegates from every section of the South will convene for the purpose of discussing matters of importance and interest to the business in which they are engaged.

For several weeks the local carriage makers have been busily engaged in preparing a reception for the vehicle builders, and now everything is in apple ple order for the delegates. However, a special meeting of the local committee will be held Friday night, when the final details will be arranged. It is expected that the convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce will meet with the details will be arranged. It is expected that the convention committee of the Chamber of Commerce will meet with the carriage men.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE.

The committee which has charge of the entertainment of the vehicle builders is composed as follows: C. G. Bosher, chairman; David Ainsile, B. T. Crump, J. H. Finch, J. T. Dunn, L. R. Bpencer, W. C. Smith and E. C. Hughes.

The convention will convene at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 7th in the assembly room of Murphy's Hotel annex, this hostelry having been decided upon as headquarters. They will listen to an address of welcome on behalf of the State by Governor Montague, and of the city by Mayor Taylor. President J. G. Anderson, of Rock Hill, S. C., will respond on behalf of the association.

Adjournment will be taken at 12:30 for lunch, and in the afternoon the delegates will be driven over the city in carriages, that they may have an opportunity of viewing the many points of interest. At night the party will be tendered a party at Bostock's.

From 10 until 12:80 of the day following will be devoted to business, and in the afternoon the party will be taken to Seven Pines on chartered trolley cars. Upon return to the city one of the theatres will be visited.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The convention will be brought to a close by the annual election of officers and the choice of a city for the next place of meeting This will be capped off at night with a sumptuous banquet, the best that Colonel Murphy can prepare. Governor Montague will, in all probability, respond to a toast.

The Southern Vehicle Association is in its Infanoy, having been organised only last year at a big gathering in Atlanta. It has been growing steadily and rapidly for the past year, numbering among its members some of the best known and most prominent vehicle builders in the Southern States.

in this community for the past few weeks.
About a month ago a young man named Snapp came home from Newport News sick. In a few days he developed a genuine case of smallpox. A strict quarantine was established immediately and the disease has not spread, though every member of the family had either smallpox or varioloid, and two of them, a young lady and young man, died from the dreadful disease. They were brother and sister of the young man who brought the disease from Newport News. Their home is about two miles from Scottsville, and the town and county authorities have used overy precaution to prevent the spread of the disease.

PEABODY FUND MAY BE "LOCATED"

Trustees Have Discussed Disposition of It-A Curry Memorial, Possibly.

Wide-spread interest is felt here in Wide-spread interest is felt here in the character of the disposition that will be made of the Peabody fund.

When Dr. Curry became ill, and he was very sick when the Board of Trustees of the fund met, the question was at once suggested: "What would become of the fund if Dr. Curry should die?" All folt that it would hardly be possible to find a man who would administer its earnings as well as Dr. Curry had done for so many years. The builef has been growing steadily since the death of Dr. Curry that one of two things would be done with the $2,100,000 that remains of the legacy of Mr. Peabody to popular education in the United States.

One suggestion was that it should be located. This can best be illustrated, possibly. The Virginia State Female Normal, at Farmville, has been receiving $5,000 annually, say, from the Paabody fund. In locating the fund enough money would be put aside to yield $5,000 a year, and the earning would be perennial, since the principal would not be touched. The trustees would select certain schools which were doing a fine work, were filling a mission worthily and needed help to meet the demands made upon them. These would have entrusted to them certain amounts which would make a substantial annual yield to be used in meeting the expenses.

certain amounts which would have a substantial annual yield to be used in meeting the expenses.

The other plan suggested is that the entire fund shall be turned over to the members of the General Education Board, which is doing so much now in the interest of education in the South. The principal will probably never be touched, at least not for a long time. When the Peabody Board met some time ago in Washington the question of what should be done eventually with the fund was discussed.

It would not be surprising if the trustees used a part of the money for the establishment of a memorial to Dr. Curry, but what shape this will take is probably a matter little discussed so far.

tion. If he issues a warrant for any known person, or for John Doe and Jane Doe, it will have to go before the grand jury."

THE PENNELLS' DEATHS.

Since the name of Arthur R. Pennell became so prominent in the Burdick inquest the authorities have been accumulating evidence bearing upon the grant of Fonnell and his wife, resulting from the plunge of their automobile from Konsington Avenue into the quarry. It is likely that an inquest into the death of the Pennells will follow the inquiry into the death of Burdick.

In tracing the movements of the Pennells in the afternoon of the trip, the police have learned much. During the hourand ten minutes of that drive four interesting incidents that seem to be well substantiated took place. A fifth incident, the alleged not of Mrs. Pennell in emptying a small flask of whiskey and throwing the bottle away, seems to have the shadow of a doubt cast upon it, although Jacob Geiger, a laborer, who says he witnessed the incident, positively avers it is so.

The first incident is the riding of the automobile up and down in front of Frank Geiger's farm house at the corner of Balley and Kensington Avenues, slower than a pusson could walk and in a pouring rain for about half an hour. The second incident was the stop at George Volks' saloon on Kensington Avenues, slower than a pusson could walk and in a pouring rain for about half an hour. The second incident was a repetition of the Balley Avenue and took another gloss of the same liquor to his wife. Volks' mother lives next door to the Pennell home on Cleveland Avenue and she is therefore well acquainted with Pennell. The third incident was a repetition of the Balley Avenue loitering and manoeuvering at the corner of Kensington Avenue and Grieder Street for five or ten minutes at the same snall-like pace, and in the same drenching rain. The fourth incident, the last feature of the drive, aside from the trassedy itself, is the strangest, if not the most, significant of all. This is the incident of the Pennells ietting down the canop they were exposed to the heavy down-pour of rain. This happened two or three minutes before the auto took its fina-
